S.B. considers water. sewer deposit hikes

by Alma Henry

The South Bay City Commission heard the first reading of an ordinance Tuesday night calling for the increase of water and sewer service desposits. City Attorney, James Gann told the commission the proposed ordinance only calls for increased deposits on certain types of meters. The commission instructed Gann to draft the ordinance several weeks ago when several landlords of the city appeared before the commission and told of the plight they are faced with when tenants move without paying their water bills.

The proposed increases call for a $50 increase in deposit for meters three quarters of an inch or smaller and a $17 increase for meters one inch.

The final reading of the ordinance will be read at the next commission neeting. In other business before the Commis-

Parrish and Tindall file in Belle Glade city race

Two candidates have filed so far in Belle Glade's Civ Commission race and they will be running against ch other each other.

Another potential candidate, Glades Trend reporter and former West Palm Beach Evening Times newsman Iz Nachman, was expected to file Wednesday morning. West Borough incumbent Randy Davidson is also expected to file, tommorrow afternoon. Incumbent Claude Tindal of the North Borough was Incumbent Claude Tindal of the North Borough was the first candidate to file. He is seeking reelection Sept. 15 in one of the three seats up for grabs. Tindall filed 8 a.m. Friday morning, the first day of qualifying. Tindall lives at 1600 NW Ave. L.

Iz Nachman filed to run in the Belle Glade city elections at 10 a.m. Wednesday morning. Nachman will be running for the seat now occupied by City Commissioner Dorothy Walker of the East Borough.

Nachman resides at 1008 SE Second St.

Tindall, running for his third term this year, had no competition two years ago. This time though, he faces one and possibly two opponents.

Clyde 'Racey' Parrish, a wrecker service operator in Belle Glade for 40 years, filed Tueady morning, claiming that he will "clean up the town" if he wins.

Parrish, 60, lives at 508 NE Third St. A resident of Belle Glade since 1941, Parrish was on the commission for four years during the early and mid-1960's, serving one year as mayor. He said he feels his experience as mayor and commissioner will be an asset.

"I want to try and clean it up, garbage-wise."

Parrish sited the southwest section of town as an area where severe garbage problems are.

also a member of the Solid Waste Budget and Policy Advisory Board.
"I'll carry on as I have been if I'm reelected," Tindall said. "I'm proud of what I've been able to accomplish on the commission and I've enjoyed it...the city is by far better off than it used to be."

Shooting at Glades General

A shooting that occurred Tuesday at midnight at Glades General Hospital is being investigated by police.

Jose Clay, 18, is reported shot by police.

Police say Clay was fit in the back of his leftr leg, getting his thigh bone shattered.

No other information has been released at presstime.

Pahokee ticketing bikers

Pahokee police have reportedly began ticketing bikers, between 7 and 14 years old, that have been driving dangerously on city sidewalks.

Pahokee lot to be paved

Reports indicate that the paving of the parking lot and construction of a waiting room at the Pahokee Highway Patrol and Drivers License office is set to start next month. It should be completed 90 days after that.

Bids on the construction are expected to be opened Aug. 6 at the Pahokee office.

Glades garbage may soon be cooking but transfer facility is still unfinished Cooking Glades garbage to produce oil finally came closer to reality this week. And more discussion concerning the continuing con-struction problems besetting the proposed Glades gar-bage transfer complex occurred, with little action taken.

The Solid Waste Authority Budget and Policy Advisory Committee gave its blessing to a contract calling for the cooking of Glades refuse to produce oil in its moting Monday night.

The contract, made with Urban Waste Disposal Systems of New York, was sent on by the committee to Belle Glades, South Bay and the Palm Beach County Commission for each of those groups' approval. Each of these groups must approve the project before it can be implemented. All groups are expected to approve be implemmented. All groups are expected to approve it, however.

If the centract is okayed, the firm will build a $7 million plant at the Belle Glade landfill to dispose of garbage from the Glades, except from Pahokee. Pahokee has decided not to get involved. Oil, akin to diesel fuel, will be produced as a byproduct of the burning and the firm would give rebates to users to be determined by the amount of oil generated and marketed.

After the two city governments and county commission approve the plant, it has to go back before the Solid Waste Authority for final approval, according to committee chairman And County Commissioner Bill Bailey. The idea was first contemplated by the Budget committee more than a year-and-half ago.

Urban officials bemoande the fact that they have four more governmental okays to go. They said they weren't aware of the need for the other agencies ap-werent's aware of the neec for the other agencies ap-proval.

Frustration was the mood when the garbage transfer construction delays were discussed.
The delays could cost the city $10 per ton of refuse when the station finally is operational, according to Tim Hunt, Authority executive director.
Construction is due to be completed by Aug. 17, and-the authority can fine the current contractor, William Acree, if the building isn't completed on time, Hunt said.

Acree, if the building isn't completed on time, Hunt said.
Charles Anderson, a authority consulting engineer, indicated that that completion by Aug. 17 isn't likely, as did Kenneth Throop, an Acree representative at the meeting. Throop, substituting for Acree who couldn't attend the meeting because of a death in the latter's family, said he would try and set up a meeting between Acree and the authority deprhaps later this week! to explain the reasons for the delay. The building was originally scheduled for completion in October.

In Acree's absence, the authority didn't take any final action.
Throop claimed that he thought it was the authority by job to take out the garbage which had accumulated inside the unfinished frame of the building. He added that the reason for the delay is occause the authority hasn't removed the refuse. Hunt said its Acree's responsibility, not the authority's, to take the trash out.

The new trash complex has been plagued with problems since a fire broke out at the landfill several months ago. Some of the trash inside the building caught [Continued on Page 2]

The chamber also voted this month to let Kenneth Retterer, a local carpenter, renovate the old Chamber of Commerce Building. Clades Roofing will repair the roof. Cost of the project is estimated at $2,500, Crane said.

A Belle Glade man was beaten and robbed by five others Saturday night, as he walked down a SW Sixth Street alley. Police say one of the assailants was in a wheelchair. They say they were told by Vincent Har-ris, 27, that he was grabb-ed by two men, dragged inside an apartment building, and was beaten with a rifle.

After the attack, the theives stole Harris' wallet and wrapped a towel around his head, showing him into an alley shoving him into an alley, he said. Harris was treated and released at Glades General Hospital. The case is still being investigated.

Budget session set

City commissioners and officials are preparing for Saturday's budget session, which will probably be an all-day affair, as most of the city's first budget sessions are. The session, open to the public, will start at 9 a.m., and commissioners are set to meet with city department heads to begin formulating the 1981-82 budget. City planners have no idea on how large the budget will be, but no increase in the 8.6 mill levy is expected.

Garbage-

Last year's budget totaled $6.4 million. But overexpenditures in the reserve fund helped to lop off several thousand of that total before the end of this fiscal year, Oct. 1. Increases in water and sewer rates can be expected, beginning Oct. 1. The amount of the increase is not known yet. Salary increases for city employees will be included, some as much as 20 percent. Salaries make up about 50 percent of the on fire too, and large amounts of water was dumped on it to put it out.

The water cracked the walls of the building, halting construction. A plan was later submitted by the contractor calling for new piling and buttresses along the damaged walls. After the authority debated on whether or not to tear the building down and build a new one, it decided to try and salvage the half-completed structure.

Throop questioned that the garbage inside had to be removed. Anderson said the gases created by it staying there could be explosive. A load test of the structure was also proposed by Anderson.

One payment on the bond issue financing the project has already been made, with another one due by October. Hunt said. This is causing a financial drain on the authority, he said, because no revenues from the facility can come in until it is in operation.

Tipping, or disposal fees at county landfills where the garbage was scheduled to be taken are set to double, Hunt said, meaning fees of $25 a ton instead of the original estimate of $15.

With the increases looming, Hunt said he contacted of ficials in Okeechobee and Hendry counties to ask whether or not refuse could be taken to those places instead of Lantana. A $100,000 first-year saving could be had, Hunt said. NOW OPEN K&J's Pizza & Subs Located at the corner of U.S. 27 & 80 in South Bay at the stop light CARRY OUT SERVICE

The Honorabic Graham Governor-State of Florida The Capitol Tallahassee, Fl 32301

Dear Bob: Though heavy rains flooded parts of the coun-ty in June and eased the threat of drought in some areas, Florida's water pro-blems are far from over. Our tremendous growth and increased economic development are draining our water resources. Florida just experienced one of the most severe droughts in our state's history. In fact, it is not over yet in South Florida. Lake Okeechobee is at its lowest level in 120 years and could possibly reach its lowest level, in 100 years. South Florida could be headed for a disastrous situation.

The day of reckoning with our water resources is here. Hundreds of local water problems around our state have the potential of merging into a statewide crisis. Therefore, I am asking you to establish a water resource commission for the specific purpose of investigating and recommending changes in our present water use and management plan that could be implemented by the water management districts and local govern-ments as well as districts and local governments as well as legislative remedies for this growing problem. This commission could be appointed on a short term basis or if necessary, a

Let's play fair

In a column I wrote on Oct. 9, 1980, I wrote of the unfair treatment of Haitians coming to America, namely South Florida.

Today, July 23, 1981 some nine months later the Haitians are still being treated unfairly and the treatment gets worse with each passing day.

Unlike the Cubans who received an open-arm welcome from the Carter Administration, the Haitians are receiving no such welcome.

When other refugees come to America the books say there are immigration policies but they are tossed out of the window.

When the Haitians ride the high sees coming to America not only are there immigration policies but Congressman Dan Mica and Sen. Paula Hawkins calls for the establishment of more enforceable immigration policies for the estandament of any composition.

Mica, in a letter to the President on July 13, urged the Administration to take swift action informulating an enforceable immigration policy that would bring immigration back under the control of the government, phase out illegal immigration and place a reasonable limit on legal immigration. Additionally, Mica outlined nine points he falt were important to include in any immigration policy.

30 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS July 20, 1951

Local farmers, many of whom had been on vacation with their families at the sea-shore, in the mountains or visiting relatives in and out of state, were returning home and starting to get ready to open up their fall vegetable growing operations.

J. L. Juna, a formse member of the Elliott-Lynn Motors in Pahokee, amounced that he had sold his interest in the concern to B. Elliott. Mr. Elliott was the former owner of the Ford agency and operated as an individual for more than 20 years before selling out to Mr. Lynn and Thomas Elliott.

It was written in the News that a Horace Scruggs, a Young comedian from Canal Point, literally tore the house down at the Prince Theatre, when Malcolm Miller presented another program of local talept in his Talent. Scout. Night show.

Dan's Restaurant in Fahokee opened for business and more than 300 folks visited the new cafe they opened in the building owned by Dr. L. W. Armstrong next to the Dixie Hotel in Parokee.

An article printed concerning the many trials that had beset the residents of the Glades Section was reprinted in the Everglades News as released from Tallahassee.

reprinted in the Everglades News as released from Tallahasses.

It was reported that the pioneers of a vast agricultural frontier-the Florida Everglades- were being rescued again, this time from a burden of debts and taxes that were said to have been retarding the development of the fertile marshlands potentially capable of producing more winter vegetables than theentire nation could consume.

Application had been made to the War Department by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Farm Security Administration, Montgomery, Alabama, for a permit to construct a water intake line and structure at the Canal Point. ment is an outrage.

Far from being an outrage, ricegrowing experiments in the Everglades Agricultural. Area offer the best means we have for stopping biological Oxidation of the muck soil which causes the irreversible destruction of the most fertile soil in our State. No more water is transpired from rice than from the sawgrass that once covered the Everglades, or than is, transpired from flooded parts of the Conservation areas and the Everglades National Park.

The Herald editors imp

Mucklands are a giant sponge which can store water during the wet season. By holding rain water on farmlands during the summer, rather, than draining fields, more water can be stored in South Florida. In addition, muck soils need to be flooded for their conservation. The water storage capacity of South Florida is being decreased as the muck soils oxidial actions and the soil of the soil

A few years ago, streakers shocked many across he country with their revealing audacity. It was a phenomenon that reached from coast to east and streakers were even reported in some Euro coast and streakers were even reported in some pean countries.

In an age when sports tended to be either in-dividual (golf) or team (football), streaking could be both. You could do it in ones or en mass.

There were reports of whole platoons of streakers charging across college squares.

Streaking led to little streaker jokes, such as all streakers aren't created equal, and even a streaker.

streakers aren't created equal, and even a streaker, song, called predicatably enough "The Streak." Recently, streaking has waned but not died. I heard a report on the radio the other day of a young lady who appeared in Dartmouth, England, wearing only her suntan.

It's appropriate tht this latest recurrence would be in England. After all, England is the home of the original streaker. Lady Godiva rode naked through the streets of Coventry, England, hundreds of years ago to win relief for the people from a burdensome

In this country, a lot of people are concerned about taxes, too, but they usually protest a little differently. It might be interesting though, if a whole roomful of streakers showed up at budget workshop time down at the courthouse.

For me, streakers are like UFOs - I've never seen

I recall, however, that while attending the Universi-ty of South Florida in Tampa, one of the campus newspaper's photographers snapped a picture of a streaker, who was wearing only a ski mask and boots.

streaker, who was wearing only a sk mask and noots. The editor, being a tell-it-like-it-is person, wanted to run the picture as was. The staff finally prevailed and he agreed to placing a strip of black tape over a strategic location.

The same paper, the Oracle, featured a reporter, who among other accomplishments, was a reformed streaker.

He had once agreed to a photo feature of him getting a permanent at a uni-sex hair styling salon.

Overnight, his hairdo went from early hippie to something resembling what my little sisters use to wear back in the 1950s.

wear back in the 1950s.

Gradually, he became a bit more conservative and gave up some of his wilder, pasttimes, such as streaking. Unbeknowns to him, the paper had a photo of him and three 5th is thread streaking through a campus parking lot at the height of the streaking craze. The photo had never been published, but on the first anniversary of the streaking outbreak it was. Although the paper identified the reporter as an Oracle staffer, it left his identity a mystery.

But with that permanent, there was never really a mystery at all.

Pedestrians die at high rate

TALLAHASSEE— Pedestrians died at the rate of almost two every day in Florida in 1980 said the Florida Highway Patrol Information Bureau.

Patrol records show that 706 pedestrians died in 1980 compared to 656 in 1979. That equals an increase of eight percent.

There were 6.478 pedestrians injured in 1980 compared to 6.545 injured in 1979. This points out a slight reduction in injuries in the overrall count. Of those pedestrians killed or injured, ages 1-19 had a slight reduction while the 20-44 group increased. The over 65 the age group also had a reduction.

Crossing the roadway where there are no crosswalk caused the greatest number of fatalities. In 1979, 168 persons were killed by stepping in the path of a vehicle and in 1980, 216 died in the same manner.

During the last ten years, there have been 5.423 pedestrians killed on Florida roadways in tragic accidents. The only time the steady annual increase in deaths has dropped was in 1974 and 1975 after the 55 miles per hour speed limit was initiated and gas was in 50 short supply except for a slight drop in 1977.

One out of every four of the 2.879 persons killed on Florida highways in 1980 was a pedestrian. said Colonel Eldrige Beach, Patrol director. "and like most fatal accidents, could have been prevented through a little common sense and courtesy."

Down at the Courthouse on display

BELLE GLADE - The Lawrence E. Will Museum is presenting a traveling exhibit entitled "Down at the Courthouse", according to Ms. Phyllis J. Lilley, the librarian at the Belle Glade Muncipal Library.

The exhibit is part of an outreach program initiated by Secretary of State George Firestone that places 20 museum exhibits on tour statewide.

Through photographs, illustrations and a sampling of stories, facts and anecdotes, the exhibit looks at life in each of Florida's 67 counties.

"The Courthouse collection is unique in its personalized treatment of life in Florida," Firestone said. "As a family album-a diary for the state—it reflects each community's view of its past, its local pride, its ability to laugh at itself, and its collective hopes for the future."

Ms. Lilley said the exhibit will be on display at the museum for several weeks and the museum is opened to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

"Down at the Courthouse" is one of 20 traveling exhibits placed on statewide tour by the Museum of Florida History at Firestone's request.

According to Firestone, the traveling exhibit program is designed to offer Floridain sgreater access to the state's cultural and historic resources.

The Florida senator contends that comprehensive reform legislation he introduced in February will stabilize Social Security while adhering to the four principles.

Chiles' bill would deal with the near-term cash shortage by phasing out student benefits and minimum benefits for new retirees and allowing interfund borrowing between the old-age survivors fund, health insurance fund and disability insurance fund.

His long-term solution is a three-year increase in retirement age for full benefits, the phase-in beginning in the year 2000 and reaching age 68 in 2012.

"Down at the Courthouse" a illustrated look at life in each of Florida's 67 counties is now on display at the Lawrence E. Will Museum in Belle Glade. The traveling display will be on display at the Museum for the next couple of weeks.

BELLE GLADE - The Lawrence E. Will Museum is presenting a traveling exhibit entitled "Down at the Courthouse", according to Ms. Phyllis J, Lilley, the librarian at the Belle Glade Muncipal Library.

The exhibit is part of an outreach program initiated by Secretary of State George Firestone that places 20 museum exhibits on tour statewide.

Through photographs, illustrations and a sampling of stories, facts and anecdotes, the exhibit looks at life in each of Florida's 67 counties.

"The Courthouse collection is unique in its personalized treatment of life in Florida," Firestone said. "As a family album-a diary for the state -it reflects each community's view of its past, its local pride, its ability to laugh at itself, and its collective hopes for the fiture."

Why Attend Church in Summer-or Anytime?

When I was on a tour of Europe, my observation seemed to be that it was only the Catholics who were attending church or Mass on Sunday. In summer in this country many people are traveling somewhere on Sunday. Summer weekends are spent by others fishing, swimming, golfing or relaxing.

They feel that weekends are meant for getting away from the city, home and perhaps even from church. Vacations are to be a complete change, perhaps seen from God.

Some people say that everyone who can tries to get om God. Some people say that everyone who can tries to get way from Belle Glade in the summer. All of this leads to the question: Why attend chruch in summer or to the question: Why attend chruch in summer or anytime?

Before trying to answer this question, let's look at the Bible. There are Biblical reasons for attending church or synagogue. Jesus attended the synagogue as was his custom. He grew up attending the synagogue and continued attendance at worship services throughout his life.

In Exodus 20:8 we learn that God wanted the seventh day of the week to be dedicated to Him.—

The Psalmist David wanted to dwell or stay in the house of the Lord all the days of his life, to behold the beauty of the Lord and to inquire in His temple. People begged Psul to preach on the next Sabbath. Acts 13:42]. They went to the river on the Sabbath where people had gathered for prayer. (Acts 16:13). Aquila and Priscilla and Paul went to the synagogue in Corinth, in an effort to persuade the Jews and the Greeks every Sabbath. (Acts 18:13). Gather together, says Paul, (Col. 3:11), for teaching and admonishing in wisdom. Sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs with thankfulness. Make melody to the Lord with all your heart. [Sph. 5:19).

What has happened? From New Testament times until the last fifty years church attendance was a very important matter. Now with the widespread road system and the use of cars, people take off for weekends, visiting friends and family, not waiting for vacation.

bed as long as they want to do so on one day out of the week.

Many people have the feeling they won't be missed in church. So now with the four day week and long holiday weekends you often hear someone ask "Why stay around town or around the house when you can get away"

Why then should we attend church in the summer or anytime. There are many reasons. The first is to renew our spiritual batteries. James said, and the said of the sai

VOSH needs your old glasses

Don't throw those old eyeglasses away! Donate them to Volunteer Op-tometric Services to Humanity (VOSH) in col-lection boxes, that were placed in local eyedoctor's and bank offices. this month.

VOSH, based in Warren, Ark, is an organization of eyecare professionals that donates its time to dispense donated eyeglasses to underdeveloped countilization.

underdeveloped countries.

The condition of the donated glasses is not important, VOSH officials stressed; it's not even necessary for lenses to be in their frames. VOSH members will catalog all frames and lenses.

Previous VOSH programs have reached Mexico, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Panama, San Blas Islands, Dominican Republic, Nicaragua.
People wishing to donate eyéglasses can do so at the following locations, until Aug. 31:
